Officials say a skier was hit on the slopes and injured by an employee of a ski resort in the Lake Tahoe area.

Representatives of Florida resident Kimberly Bland say she was on a ski trip to Heavenly Mountain Resort when the accident occurred. Heavenly Mountain Resort is located on Lake Tahoe Boulevard in South Lake Tahoe, California, but its slopes extend across the state line into Nevada.

Ms. Bland alleges that an employee of the resort, Daniel Barreno, was on a snowboard when he struck her. The incident caused Ms. Bland to lose consciousness and she sustained injuries to her shoulder, neck, head and back.

On Wednesday, December 21, her lawyers filed a formal suit.
